Don't Laugh at Nervous People.
Their sufferings are very real, although you, with your vigorous physique and strong nerves, can scarcely believe it. Rather suggest the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters which, in removing every trace of dyspepsia, and regulating the liver and bowels, strikes at and eradicates the most prolific source of chronic nervous trouble. That nerve-battering disease, fever and ague, is among the formidable ailments, to the removal of which this gentle remedy is specially adapted. Nervous prostration, resulting from prolonged mental or physical effort, is also a state of the system where the intervention of this tonic is very desirable, more particularly as its use is to quiet and relax the tension of overworked nerves. The Bitters are invaluable in rheumatism, neuralgia and kidney troubles. Employ no substitute for it.

Bringing Gladness
To millions, pleasing their palates, and cleansing their systems, arousing their livers, kidneys, stomachs and bowels to a healthy activity. Such is the mission of the famous California liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs, sold by Wm. Pinninger, Reno, Nevada.

The Verdict Unanimous.
W. D. Sult, druggist, Bippus, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of rheumatism of ten years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Belleville, Ohio, testifies: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 25 years' experience, is Electric Bitters. Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the liver, kidneys or blood. Only a half dollar a bottle at S. J. Hodgkinson & Co's, Drug Store."

Happiness and Health.
Are important problems, the former depending greatly on the latter. Everyone is familiar with the healthy properties of fruits, and no one can afford to be sick and miserable while the pleasant California concentrated liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs, may be had of our enterprising druggist, Wm. Pinninger, Reno, Nev.

When baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a child she clung to Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had children, she gave them Castoria.

Excitement in Texas.
Great excitement has been caused in the vicinity of Paris, Texas, by the recovery of J. E. Corbin, who had been ill for several months, and was unable to get up. He was cured by the use of Dr. King's New Discovery. He had taken two boxes of pills and two bottles of the Discovery, he was well and had gained in flesh 25 pounds. Trial bottle of this Great Discovery for Consumption free at S. J. Hodgkinson & Co's.

Don't Trifle with a Throat or Lung Disease. If you have a Cough or Cold, or the children are threatened with Croup or Whooping Cough, use Acker's English Remedy and prevent further trouble. It is a positive cure, and we guarantee it. Price 10 and 50 cents.

Unnecessary Misery.
Probably as much misery comes from habitual constipation as from any derangement of the functions of the body, and it is difficult to cure, for the reason that no one likes to take the medicine usually prescribed. Hambley's Fig-worms are prepared to obviate this difficulty, and they will be found pleasant to the taste of women and children. 25 cents. At all druggists. S. J. Mack & Co., Proprietors, San Francisco.

THE BENCH.

Eccentricities of a Western Michigan Judge.

The following stories are related of a Judge of one of the Circuits in Western Michigan. The Judge was of a conscientious turn of mind, honest and upright, a lawyer of ability, but somewhat given to eccentricities. A man of questionable reputation was on trial once before him on a criminal charge. The attorney for the defendant was a gentleman of reputation, subsequently chosen Attorney-General of the State. Every effort that he made in the way of objections, and they were frequent, was ruled against by the court, all of which caused ill feeling.

Finally the Judge became impatient on being reminded that the defendant was entitled to a fair standing in the court, and said to the counsel for the defense: "The two of you put together have no standing in this court; you ain't no better than he is, and he ought to be sent up for life."

On another occasion an important law question was being argued, each attorney being urged on each side. One of them was making his argument. He had read quite a number of authorities in support of his position and was insisting that the proposition he contended for was the law. The Judge told him in the midst of his argument he was wrong.

"But that is simply your Honor's opinion," said the attorney. The reply was: "Yes, sir, it is only my opinion, 'tis true. I don't care for the opinions of the Supreme Court of Vermont or Pennsylvania, or any other court; my opinion controls this court, and governs your case, and I predict you're goin' to get beat so bad you won't know where you are."

And the Judge was right about it, as the sequel proved. Another time the court was sitting in chambers for the trial of a divorce case. The proofs had all been taken and a solicitor for the complainant had been arguing the case for two or three hours. The Judge was becoming uneasy. All at once he broke out in this way: "Now, Clarke, look here; you've been talking for four or five hours and not said a thing about the case. I don't propose to fool away my time listening to slush. If you don't change your tune pretty soon, I am going home; that's all there's about it."

The attorney for the defense—"I am conducting my side of this case, and propose to present it in a manner that suits me, and you have got to sit here and listen to it."

Judge—"No, sir, there is no law compelling a man to sit still and be bored to death; you must stick to the case or I won't stay here. Proceed, sir, with your speech!"

As the argument proceeded, the Judge kept getting more impatient and at last turned to the clerk and shouted: "Mr. Clerk, enter up in the journal of this court that A. B. is a fool, and adjourn court until to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock."

The clerk made the entry, and an inspection of the journal will show it there to-day.

A case was being tried before the Judge without a jury, with an able lawyer on either side. The plaintiff was Morfit, and the defendant a well-to-do colored man. The suit was for breach of contract and there seemed to be much difficulty in ascertaining what the contract was. While Morfit was upon the stand, the defendant's attorney objected to nearly every question. The Judge overruled each objection with the remark, that as there was no jury, the reception of the testimony could do no harm. The objections continued, and finally the Judge turned to the attorney and said:

"See here, Henry, I am going to overrule all your objections as fast as you can make 'em. I am going to hear the whole of this case. There's no jury here, so no harm can be done and old Morfit's got to swear a good deal stronger'n he has yet or he'll get 'busted' all to pieces."

The trial proceeded, and when the defendant took the stand, the same course of objections continuing, the Judge informed counsel he would put the questions himself.

Judge—"Now, my good man, just tell me all about your trouble with Morfit."

Defendant—"Yes, sah; you see, Judge, one night las' May, Mr. Morfit and I was down by de co'n' dar and Mr. Morfit says to me—'I says to Mr. Morfit; no—lemme see.'"

Judge—"Come, come, get to the point and tell me what was said."

The defendant proceeded again as before, but each time stopped and seemingly could get no farther. After several fruitless trials by the court and attorneys the Judge said to him; "Well, I think you had better go and sit down where you won't be in the way. You don't know half as much about the case as old Morfit does, and he doesn't know enough to win it."

It is needless to add that judgment was for defendant and for costs.

Spiced Beef: Take about twenty pounds of round of beef, which rub well with about three ounces of coarse brown sugar and put into a pan for twenty-four hours. Pound up to a powder two ounces of saltpetre, two ounces of black pepper, two ounces of allspice, a little nutmeg, one blade of mace and six cloves. Mix this with twelve ounces of common salt and the juice of four ounces of juniper berries, and rub well into the beef, repeating daily for three weeks. When ready to be cooked, wash in cold water and place in a deep-covered pan the size of the meat, to which add a quart of water. Cover it with a beef suet chopped very fine, over which put a common paste crust. Place on the cover and put into the oven; when done let it cool before taking off the crust and suit.

Orange flower water is the elegant tipple of the woman of fashion at the present hour. It is very quieting to the nerves.

A Chinese Complexion.

When observed in one of the Caucasian race, is indicative of bile in the blood. Who would be yellow when he or she can exhibit the hue of health on cheek and brow through the aid of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, an antacidist at whose onset liver complaint takes flight? For upon the tongue, nausea, sick headache, pains under the right ribs and shoulder blade, an unpleasantly odoriferous breath are remedied with this benign alternative, which does not, like a potent cathartic, drench the intestines or, like the mercurial preparations, contaminate the blood. Not only the liver, but the stomach and bowels are aroused, toned and regulated by this fine family medicine, which has won the confidence of the respectable classes, not by startling assertions on its behalf, but by the consistency of the claims made for it with its performance in every instance when tested.

In Brief, and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature. The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cooking, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things, which ought not to be, have made American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this bad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy. Remember—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, 1907

Mr. L. Jordan, a London journalist and late of the literary staff of the Sydney Daily Telegraph, arrived in San Francisco on the steamship "Alameda" from the Hawaiian Islands, Saturday, and when interviewed concerning matters in the pigmy empire he is reported to have said:

I soon found that the political atmosphere was malodorous; that his Majesty King Kalakaua was in bad favor with a large proportion of his subjects, and that his power had slipped into a myth. The anticipation of the general elections, to take place on the 12th inst., strikes a wholesome terror in the hearts of his Majesty and his satellites. A radical political change is expected, and to judge from the determination of the white population, one can but conclude that the result will be all in favor of the reformers. The King is lightly spoken of all round, and many remarks and aspersions hurled at his royal head are nothing less than high treason.

The oppositionists are determined, at the risk of bloodshed, to carry their point, and the reforms demanded appear equitable and within reason. Kalakaua has already acquiesced to all that has been asked, but he has also his relatives and nobles to please and they carry with them no small power. Therefore, if the elections terminate in the return of Kalakaua's supporters there is no telling to what extent or to what extreme the new party will go to gain the reforms they demand.

Recruiting is going on daily and the Rifles—a sturdy body of men—are one with the league. I saw on each face a determination and a will worthy of the fiercest warrior. They number about three hundred, and are made up of all nationalities, including Americans, Canadians, English, French and Portuguese, and are commanded by an American, General V. Ashford, a gentleman of solid military appearance. The recruits are drilled with persistent energy and seem eager to become proficient soldiers. On the other hand the King's Guards did not impress me. I failed to observe any of the determination in their character or demeanor that was so marked in the members of the Rifle Corps.

THE Government of Columbia is authorized to grant a reward of $10,000 in silver to everyone who discovers a new merchantable article of export. Under this law Señor Rafael Vanegas has filed two claims, one for the discovery and employment of a valuable medicinal plant; the second for the discovery that wild cocoa trees exist in profusion in the virgin forests which stretch from the waters of the Ariari down to the river Guayabero. If investigation should prove the correctness of this statement, it will throw millions of dollars annually into Columbia and place a valuable article within the reach of many who are now deprived of the use of it owing to the price.

The new political party in progress of formation in the wicked city of Chicago has the merit of standing upon a very sensible declaration of principles. It proposes to cut loose from Socialistic and Anarchistic influences which have honeycombed the city and county government and do its best to overthrow the power which has brought disgrace upon the community.

To have a town prosper there must be a unity of action. Petty feelings and jealousies should be laid aside and good ends considered. In a business proposition that has a the semblance of merit is presented you, give it a hearing, and if reasonable and promising of good results to your town, support it. Unity and prosperity go together.

FROM all reports it is quite safe to predict that the fall season in business circles will be a busy one. This is the sort of intelligence which is pleasing to the mass of the people.

Artesian Wells.
 Ed. Haley is engaged in boring artesian wells in Sierra Valley, about 40 miles northwest of Reno. Last week he bored three for T. F. West, of Loyalton, and a gentleman just in from that section informs a GAZETTE reporter that No. 1 well, with a three-inch casing and 530 feet in depth, flows 100 gallons per minute, or about 144,000 gallons in 24 hours; No. 2, with a four-inch casing and 580 feet deep flows 160 gallons per minute or 230,400 gallons in 24 hours; No. 3, with a four-inch casing and 540 feet deep (not finished), flows 120 gallons per minute, or 172,800 gallons in 24 hours—making a total flow of 547,200 gallons every day.

Settled Down to Housekeeping.
 The Elko Independent says that on Wednesday last Postmaster Smith and wife, of that town, completed the fifty-fourth year of their married life, thirty-eight of which have been spent on the Pacific slope. The young couple have fairly settled down to housekeeping, and are in excellent health.

EASTERN DISPATCHES

The Sawbones in Conclave.
 WASHINGTON, September 5.
 In round numbers it is estimated that the invading army of doctors now contains about 5,000 individuals. The work of registration is still in progress, and the exact figures are not yet obtainable.

At the hour for opening the congress every seat in Albaugh's Opera House was occupied. President Cleveland and Secretary Bayard and Speaker Carlisle were escorted by Dr. Garnett to seats upon the stage, and were greeted with applause. The assembly was called to order by Professor Henry M. Smith, of Philadelphia, Chairman of the Executive Committee.

After a brief address by the Chairman, Dr. Nathan Davis, of Chicago, was chosen President by acclamation; Dr. John B. Hamilton, Supervising Surgeon General of the United States marine hospital service, was elected Secretary of the Congress. The vice-presidents, of the Congress, were elected by acclamation. The list contains 100 or more names.

From Behring Sea.

St. Paul, September 4.
 A Victoria (B. C.) special says: The sealing schooner Pathfinder arrived this afternoon, having on board 2,377 sealskins. During the time she was in Behring sea she only spoke once, and that was in answer to the voice of the sealing schooner until she arrived here.

His Time had Come.

New York, September 4.
 The World says: E. J. Baldwin's well-known horse, Lucky B., died late on Saturday night at Sheephead Bay from spasmotic paralysis of the brain. Four surgeons were attending him, and everything that money could do was done to save him.

FOREIGN DISPATCHES

The Social Congress.

LIEGE, September 5.
 The Social Congress is attended by a large number of delegates, including the Archbishop of Rheims, Prince Lowenstein, several German deputies and French political writers. The Bishop of Liege, in his opening address, to-day, dwelt upon the necessity and spirit of a fraternity between masters and employees, and declared it to be the duty of the State to intervene for the working classes.

More About Maximilian.

CITY OF MEXICO, September 4.
 The controversy regarding Maximilian's conduct at Guera is growing more interesting. Another note, purported to be an authentic letter from Maximilian, is published to-day, in which it states that certain military officers, not named, were to be paid $100,000 by the Imperial House of Austria, valid only the day of Maximilian's complete salvation.

NORTH BLOOMFIELD, CAL.

Present Appearance of What Were Prosperous Mining Camps.—A Growth at San Francisco.

NORTH BLOOMFIELD, Cal., September 3, 1907

Editor Gazette: I took a pleasant ride yesterday through two or three of the once prosperous mining camps of this region. There are a few pleasant homes scattered over the red hills, where grow apples, pears and peaches in abundance, and flowers of all kinds, wherever a little care is given them. I saw one place where petunias of all colors and varieties grew along a front fence and made a perfect bank of color. Deep red flowers peeped out at me between the petunias, white ones bowed over the top of the fence in the gentle breeze, and proud variegated ones held their heads six feet high. Where the old miner's cabin stood, only a heap of blackened stones now marks the place where he cooked his bacon and beans, and a cluster of rose bushes grown wild, shows that the former occupant had a love for other things than gold. The little towns are silent. A few old men sit around the saloons and stores and tell the old stories of the good old times in the fifties.

I heard of one place where the merry hydraulic monitor still pipes its song of gold. The company has patented all the ground, from which a view of the diggings can be obtained, and when the slickens spy ventures upon that ground he is quickly met by a man who carries an ugly old shotgun, and said man and gun inform the slickens spy that he is trespassing on private ground and advise him to turn back, which advice he at once obeys. So the big monitor sends out its stream of water into the gold-bearing gravel, the tailings find their way down to the river, the owners of the mine get regular dividends and everybody is happy, including the slickens spy, for do not his wages and expense account also flow gently on?

Within a few miles of here over towards San Juan there is a good deal of interest being taken in quartz mining. I saw an old claim yesterday, from which a good deal of money was taken over 20 years ago, with a big moriair. It is now neglected and the owner, a stout young man, is driving a new tunnel. The riches of the Grant and Delhi have sent lots of men out prospecting and already a number of very good properties have been located. No one here looks for or expects the aid of an American capitalist. A miner said to me yesterday: "A new generation has got control of the money in California. They build railroads, deal in stocks, and let money on land, but as for miners, the place where they made their money, as their fathers did, they will not touch them until they are dead things. San Francisco will miss our trade some day, and then she will howl and that will be our day of rejoicing."

We had a little sprinkle of rain this week, so I had to move in from under the apple tree, but I am back again. A gray bird, no bigger than the end of your thumb, has raised over my head, and after a day's teaching in the art of flying they have all gone. I suppose I shall go away some day just as silently, and some one will miss me for a season as I do the little birds, but we all go on and on just the same.

EQUIN.

RENO'S ILLUMINATORS

The Gas Company Removes its Meters From Patrons of the Electric Light.

There is trouble brewing between our two illuminating companies. It seems that the gas company has removed its meters from premises where the electric light is used, and where gas is burned when the electricity fails to connect. Mr. Thompson claims that the gas company makes only a certain quantity of gas each day, and that when an unusual demand is made on the usual supply, the regular customers justly complain of insufficient light. The gas people aver that if an extra amount is manufactured and not used at once, it evaporates and shrinks to such an extent that the company is a heavy loser thereby. In consideration of these facts, the company has determined to remove all meters from premises where gas is not regularly used. People can use both gas and electricity if they desire, but they cannot make a convenience of the gas company, and fall back upon it when the other light fails.

For contrast, the electric light company is doing all that can possibly be done to furnish a steady and reliable light. If any of its customers suffer through the removal of gas meters, the Electric Light Company will supply lamps, oil, etc., and furnish a man to keep them filled and trimmed, whenever the electric light is unable to do its work. The company is young as yet, and has met with many obstacles, but its managers, by fair dealing and by keeping good faith with the people of Reno, are confident that they will retain their present customers but will add constantly to the list.

THE MINERS' PICNIC

Broken Heads the Order of the Day.—Scenes and Incidents.

About ten car loads of pleasure-seekers and others assembled at Steamboat Springs yesterday, the occasion being the annual picnic of the Storey County Miners' Union. A large number went from Reno in buggies, carriages, etc., a few going up on the train. The day was not pleasant, it being disagreeably cold, and as a consequence a large quantity of "thistle dew" was consumed by the shivering picnickers, and many cases of intoxication and numerous fights resulted therefrom. It is stated by one gentleman that not less than nineteen fights occurred, in each of which blood was drawn. One tough, did much damage to the heads of those near him with a loaded revolver. It is not much inferior to a battle-ax as a skull breaker.

John P. Sweeney, of Carson had the privilege of running the faro games on the grounds. It seems that the necessary licenses not being forthcoming, our county officials closed the game, much to the dismay of Sweeney and those who had a desire to tempt the fickle goddess.

The officers were unable to preserve anything like peace or quiet on the grounds, the disturbing element being present in such large numbers that they had everything their own way. Of course it is needless to say that Reno's contribution to the picnic was the most orderly and well-behaved on the grounds.

A GOOD INVESTMENT

Preliminary Announcement of the Capay Valley Land Company.

Prior to the location of the line of the Woodland, Capay and Clear Lake Railroad, the Capay Valley Land Company, a corporation composed chiefly of the Directors and Officers of the Southern Pacific Company, purchased on the line of the proposed road, and chiefly in Capay Valley itself, through which the road is being extended from Madison in Yolo county—several large bodies of the choicest lands to be found in that beautiful and fertile valley. The construction of the Woodland, Capay and Clear Lake Railroad is being pushed with great energy, and will reach very early completion. The line of this road passes immediately through the lands owned by the Capay Valley Land Company, which lands will be immediately subdivided into small tracts, several town sites established and the lands and the town property placed on the market.

Capay Valley is located on the western side of Yolo county, and is one of the most fertile and picturesque valleys on the Pacific Coast. The lands in this valley have heretofore been owned in large holdings; the growing of wheat has been the chief agricultural industry, which, owing to the great fertility of the soil, the warmth and salubrity of the climate, the heavy annual precipitation of rain, and the perfect protection which the configuration of the valley affords against north winds, has proven highly profitable. At intervals, however, throughout the valley, orchards may be seen, and these experiments in the line of horticulture have demonstrated the full capabilities of the valley for the growth of all fruits, semi-tropical and temperate fruits. Orange and lemon trees of most thrifty growth may be seen in the gardens and orchards. Grapes, apricots, figs, pears, cherries, almonds, peaches, and all other fruits to be found in the most favored localities, reach here the greatest perfection. The excellent varieties of fruits and vegetables appearing in San Francisco and other markets is grown in this valley. With respect to early production, Capay Valley ranks fully with the most superior to the celebrated Vacas and Pleasant Valleys. This fact alone confers a very high premium upon the lands to be offered. The orchardist, vineyardist and gardener of Capay Valley can place ripe fruits and vegetables in the San Francisco and Chicago markets at the high rates usually obtainable for early fruit, and from four to six weeks in advance of nearly all other fruit lands of the State of California. Under completely analogous conditions lands in Vacas Valley have reached a valuation of $600 an acre and have proven highly profitable investments at this price. The lands to be offered by the Capay Valley Land Company are in all respects equal in fertility and lie under equal climatic advantages with the most favored orchard and garden lands of the State.

One of the leading objects of the purchase of this land by the syndicate of persons interested in the success of the railroad to be constructed was to secure the subdivision of the land into small holdings, and to promote the density of settlement. Keeping this object steadily in view, some of the largest and most fertile tracts will be subdivided into ten and twenty-acre lots, and individuals will be strictly limited to the ownership of a single lot. Town sites will be located as near to the center of the tracts as may be found convenient or judicious, and the owners of orchard or garden land in small tracts will be permitted to purchase not to exceed five lots in the town-site plots. In this way it is designed to establish populous and thriving communities, and to encourage the growth of the State. The property shall be based upon small holdings of very fertile and highly profitable lands. Ten acres of this fertile land lying under climatic conditions favorable to orchard and garden culture may be made as profitable and responsive to intelligent industry as 100 or 320 acres of land devoted to the raising of cattle, the raising of stock, or the raising of grain.

The early maturity of fruits and vegetables already alluded to will secure to the cultivator the highest market price, while the road to be constructed, by rendering the management and control of the owners of the land to be offered, will afford every facility for the shipment of fruits and vegetables, and in every respect promote the success of these enterprises.

Geographically, Capay Valley lies immediately west of the beautiful and thriving city of Woodland, the county seat of Yolo county. Its trend is north and south, having a length of 26 miles, and an average width of three miles. Cache creek is a very considerable stream of water, even at its lowest stages, and every piece of land offered in either intermediate or washed upon one of its boundaries by this stream of clear, pure water. Gardens and orchards are in progress, and maps of such surveys are in preparation. Owing to the large number of inquiries concerning the intentions of the Capay Valley Land Company regarding these lands, preliminary announcement has been deemed necessary.

For further particulars and for maps and descriptive circulars, or for immediate information, inquiry is directed to Wm. H. Mills, Land Agent, Central Pacific Railroad Company, corner Fourth and Townsend streets, San Francisco.

Tracy Hopkins, President, F. S. BOUTY, Secretary, Capay Valley Land Company, San Francisco, Sept. 1, 1907.

Other bills remained to be considered at half-past 2 o'clock, when H. H. Beck appeared before the Board and entered a verbal protest against alleged good treatment shown vag prisoners by the Sheriff and his deputies, and suggested that this class of inmates of the county jail be fed on very common fare and kept in close confinement. He also alluded to other features of the county government that he believed were wrong. He was followed by M. E. Ward, who spoke of like matters.

Homicide at Bullion Friday.

From Gabe Hoskins, who returned from Bullion Friday afternoon, the Elko Independent of Saturday has the following statement in reference to the killing of George Piccoli by George W. Lewis at Highland, though Mr. Hoskins knows nothing of the facts in the case but gives what he heard: "George W. Lewis is foreman of the Tripoli mine in which Piccoli has been working as a miner. It appeared that there has been some trouble between the two, and that Piccoli had quit work. Yesterday the quarrel was resumed at Highland and some hard words passed. Lewis then went down to Bullion, took a drink or two, procured a pistol and went back to Highland and to the cabin where Piccoli lived, went into the cabin and shot Piccoli two or three times, killing him almost instantly. This is about the substance of what was told Mr. Hoskins at Bullion this morning, but whether there are any extenuating circumstances we are unable to say."

Rev. Crossman's Condition.

Rev. James Crossman was brought down from Chat's station, north of town, Saturday evening, and is now at the home of Rev. Bradshaw on West street, where he is receiving good medical treatment. As will be remembered, the reverend gentleman was, at the recent Methodist Conference in Carson, transferred from Mason Valley to Greenville, Cal., to which latter place he was traveling in company with his wife and son, when a serious accident happened him at Chat's. While passing alongside of a horse in a stable there after dark, the animal was frightened by the feed bucket touching him, and kicking, knocked Mr. Crossman down. When discovered afterward he was insensible, and is even yet slightly at times. He was reported much better this morning, having enjoyed a good sleep last night.

The Attraction This Evening.

Those who attend the Nevada Theater this evening are assured a treat in the production of "Harbor Lights" by the Beaumont Comedy Company, under the management of Messrs. Edmunds and Cooper. The company carries its own scenery, and there is so much of it that the stage of our theater will be taxed to its utmost to accommodate it. Many of the mechanical effects are very highly spoken of by the San Francisco press. In the company are Miss Georgie Woodthorpe, Charles J. Edmunds, Miss Clara Beaumont and Fred Cooper, all of whom are well and favorably known to many of the theater-going people of this town. Reserved seats, for which no extra price is charged, are now on sale at the Postoffice.

What Crowded for Space.

The Oakland papers have doubled in size since the boom struck that city. The Sacramento Bee has also doubled its size, and says it is still crowded for space. There seems to be no use in trying to boom a country unless it is done through the press, and the sooner people find that such is the case the better.

The State Agricultural Society met last night. C. J. Brookins was awarded the ice cream, soda and candy privilege at the Pavilion for $75. W. M. Bigham & Co. was awarded the restaurant and lunch-stand at the track. N. W. Roff's offer to furnish music was accepted. The cigar and bar privilege was awarded to Louis Hirschberg, of Virginia, for $1,275. The appointment of employees was postponed until the next meeting.

A BOOMING FORTHERMALITO.

Reno Capitalists Invest in the New Colony.

Last week a party of Reno people in search of land visited the Thermalito colony, near Oroville, California. In this party were J. S. Shoemaker, B. F. Bobo, A. Abraham, C. S. Young, and C. T. Adams, formerly of Reno, but now of Newcastle, and a property owner of Reno. It is learned through a personal letter from one of the party that all of these gentlemen are delighted with the prospect there. Their verdict in favor of Thermalito is unanimous, and which is that there is no better place anywhere for capitalists to invest than in this colony. Reno's representatives last Saturday made investments in village lots and fruit lands amounting to several thousands of dollars, the largest investor being Mr. Abraham, for Abraham Brothers.

Should be Welcomed.
